SHAW ON FINANCIAL HISTORY.

SECRETARY OF TREASURY TALKS TO QUEENS REPUBLICANS.

Says Democrats Have Not Apologized in 1904 for Their Polly of 1896 and 1900 Meets Venerable Voters of the Party's Old Guard at College Point Pienie.

Queens county Republicans turned out with flying banners and rolling drums yesterday afternoon at Donnelly's Park, College Point, to hear Secretary of the Treasury Leslie M. Shaw. The united Republican associations of the boro gh of Queens gave s semi-centennial celebration of the birth or the Republican party, and Mr. Shaw came, as he told them, at the request of President Roosevelt, who had been invited, but could not come himself. Mr. Shaw has been a guest here of the Republican Club. The Secretary of the Treasury got to Donnelly's Park about 4 o'clock yester-day afternoon and found 3,000 cheering Republicans ready to give him an enthusiastic welcome. He arrived in an automobile from the Long Island Railroad station, and the first person to shake hands with him was James Areson of Flushing, who voted for William Henry Harrison in 1840. Mr. Areson is one of the "old guard" who are held in great reverence by Queens Mr. Areson is one of the "old guard" who are held in great reverence by Queens Republicans. John M. DeBevois, who cast a ballot for Fremont, was also greeted warmly by Mr. Shaw. There were plenty more of the "old guard" who stepped briskly up. One of them was Alfred Vaughan of Elmhurst, who told the Secretary that he voted for Henry Clay in 1844. Only one of the old men, Moses Brush of Flushing, had the distinction of having helped elect Zachary Taylor in '48, and he was the proudest man in the park when the Secretary said in allusion to Henry Gassaway Davis, the Democratic nominee for the Vice-Presidency:

"I see we have got some fine young old blood on our side, too."

President G. H. Sweeney of the association, and Theodore P. Wilsnack of Richmond Hill, chairman of the executive committee, escorted Mr. Shaw through the crowd, and took him to a quiet room where he had a chance to get a breathing spell before making his speech. Harrison S. Moore, formerly a County Judge of Queens, of the Shaw's speech dealt with finance.

duced Secretary Shaw and the others who talked.

Mr Shaw's speech dealt with finance almost entirely, although he interspersed anecdotes and campaign jokes that seemed to hit the crowd's fancy. In beginning, the Secretary said:

"I must decline to speak historically on the Republican party. The best history of the Republican party can be purchased for less than the sleeping car fare between Washington and New York. I am somewhat of a utilitarian and think the occasion a good one for the sowing of a little seed." Taking up questions of finance, the Secretary said in part:

When the Republican party came into power

Taking up questions of finance, the Secretary said in part:

When the Republican party came into power it evolved a plan. Instead of creating a great rentral Government bank patterned after European institutions, it authorized a large number of national banks, placed them under the supervision of the Secretary of the Treasury, and gave them authority to issue redeemable currency under appropriate safeguards and restrictions. Without claiming that the national banking act is perfect, or that our currency system is free from objection. I think the world joins us in the verdict that it is the best system known to man. For its existence the people are indebted to the Democratic party for an aggregate of only three votes in the two Houses of Congress. I cite the fact as an illustration that the consensus of mature Republican judgment on banking and currency is reasonably found, and that the consensus of mature indement of the opposition party on the same great question is both unsound and inconsistent and also indefinite.

Aritation for the free and unlimited coinage of silver began as far back at 1877, and since that date the sentiment of Congress, in one form or another, has been expressed on no least than ten occasions. Neither party can claim to have been originally united either for against the proposition, though every vote taken shows a larger proportion of Democrats than Republicans favoring free and unlimited coinage. The bill to repeal the purchasing clause of the so called Sherman act, though passed by an opposition of Democratic President, nevertheless received the support of 78 per cent, of the Republicans who voted on the question and only 61 per cent, of the Democrats who voted on it. The hill establishing the gold standard in 1900 had an aggregate vote in its favor of 235, only 12 of whom were Democrats, and an aggregate of 179 votes against it, only 1 of whom were permanent, but it tends to establish one of the proposition which I laid down in the sentiment in the opposition party correspondingly diminished.

The rew alignment may or may not prove permanent, but it tends to establish one of the propositions which I laid down in the beginning, that the consensus of mature judgment of the Republican party is usually right, and the consensus of mature opinion of the Democratic party is usually wrong. On this subject the Republican party staggered for a time, and stumbled once or twice, but, as in other instances, ultimately regained its equilibrium. The Democratic party, on the contrary, after staggering for a time, and stumbling frequently, finally expressed its mature judgment in its Chicago platform of 1896, as reaffirmed in 1900 and neither retracted nor apologized for in 1904.

William M. McKinney of Suffolk eulogized great Republican leaders, living and dead;

OTIS TO BE RENOMINATED.

Democratic Opponent in 19th Congress
District May Be Playwright Thomas. MOUNT VERNON, N. Y, July 23 .- At a conference of the Republican leaders of Westchester county, held this afternoon at the Pepublican Club in New York city, it was decided to renominate Norton P. Otis of Yonkers, president of the Otis Elevator Company, for Congressman of the Nineteenth district. The convention will be held after the State convention at Saratoga. There was some talk to the effect that the nomination might go to John J. Brown of White Plains, secretary of the Republican county committee, or to F. A. Stratton, vice-president of the Westchester Lighting Company. Both men have many supporters in Westchester county, but they have agreed to stayd aside and allow Mr. Otis to have a second term as a matter of precedent. The decision in favor of Congressman Otis was brought about largely through the efforts of Leslie Sutherland, former Mayor of Yonkers, who is running for County Westchester county, held this afternoon at efforts of Leslie Sutherland, former Mayor of Yonkers, who is running for County Clerk on the Republican ticket. Congressman Otis served as the New York commissioner of the Paris Exposition, having been appointed by President Roosevelt. The district is Republican by about a thousand. The Democratic nominee is likely to be Augustus Thomas, the playwright, or John Gagar of New Rochelle

"I rather think that the radical Democracy is in a receptive frame of mind.
The St. Louis convention was a great gathering. If the audience had the power to nominate. William J. Bryan would have been the nominee. There are some radical Democrats who will support President Roosevelt."

Mr. Baker is a hot candidate for renomination by the Democrats in the Sixth district. Two years ago, although the Republicans lost the county in the Govenorship by nearly 27,000 plurality, Baker won by a very narrow margin, his plurality over Bristow, the Republican candidate, being only 466 in a total vote of Broadway, 33d to 34th Street

Withdraws From the Turmoll of Red Hook Politics to Look After His Bar.

Assemblyman James J. Kehoe, the Democratic executive committeeman in the Ninth Assembly district in Brooklyn, who has been keeping the Red Hook Democracy in the anti-McCarren column, yesterday announced his retirement from the political

"I am out of it," he said. "I have decided to sit behind my bar and devote my time to attending to my business. I guess it will be better for me in the long run." For several years Assemblyman Kehoe has been an active participant in the stormy politics of the Red Hook district. Several years ago he formed an alliance with ex-Senator Michael J. Coffey and at the last primary they scored a notable victory over Senator James H. McCabe, the representative of Senator McCarren. In the sentative of Senator McCarren. In the various factional clashes on the executive committee, he vo'ed with Deputy Fire Commissioner William A. Doyle, and the other anti-McCarren members.

He refused to discuss the eason of his retirement from politics at this time, when his district is all aglow with excitement over the August primaries, but his friends say that he felt chagrined over having to take a back seat at the anti-McCarren council board, although expected to do the hardest fighting at the primaries. With Kehoe eliminated the McCarrenites expect to win out in the district.

REASON FOR LARGE DEMOCRATIC EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

Senator McCarren Not Yet Made Chairman of Mr. Hill's Chosen 5—State Com-mittee, to Meet About Aug. 15, Will Consider This Among Other Things. Leader Charles F. Murphy of Tammany

Hall issued at St. Louis, after Judge Parker's nomination, a statement in which he said 'There is never any doubt where Tamregularly nominated. Now that Judge Parker has received the nomination from the convention Tammany Hall is lined up solidly behind him. Now that the convention has spoken and paid the high honor to Judge Parker, Tammany Hall will go to work at once in New York county and roll up for him the largest plurality ever given to the Presidential candidate of the Democracy. If the Democrats throughout the State and throughout the nation will work to secure the election of Judge Parker as the loyal Democrats of Tammany Hall will work, there can be but one result, and that is victory. Since the convention it has been announced in certain quarters that Senator Patrick Henry McCarren of Kings was to be the Grand Mogul in charge of the Demobe the Grand Mogul in charge of the Demo-cratic campaign in the State, and, further-more, that all Democrate, whether in or out of Tammany Hall must learn this soon or late. Senator McCarren met this with a statement to the effect that the campaign in the State would be run as other Demo-cratic Presidential campaigns had been run, the country Democrats to take care of their end of the game, while the city Democrats, Tammany, Kings, Richmond, The Bronx and Queens, would have their management of the battle in their respec-tive counties.

Cord Meyer, chairman of the Demo-

Cord Meyer, chairman of the Democratic State committee, contemplates, it was made known yesterday, calling the State committee together immediately after the Democratic Presidential and Vice-Presidential notification ceremonies are over, say about Aug. 18, to name a time and place for the Democratic State convention, which is to name a full State ticket, and the committee is to discuss "such other business" as may come before it.

Unless harmony plans, already on foot, prevail between now and the meeting of the State committee there will be trouble at its meeting, and big trouble, too, according to yesterday's reports. At the meeting of the Democratic State committee held in Albany on April 20 Henry P. Burgard of Buffalo offered the resolution naming the following as the State executive committee: Senator Patrick Henry McCarren of Brooklyn, Hugh J. Grant, William F. Sheehan and W. H. Rodie of New York city; Frederick Cook of Rochester,

ASSEMBLYMAN KEHOE QUITS. | WANTED, A HARMONY LEAVEN George Hall of Ogdensburg and John J. Kennedy of Buffalo. It was unanimously

Achieved in the statement of the statement of Burgard told his friends then that he introduced the resolution at the request of David B. Hill, and Mr. Burgard had friends at the Hoffman House last night who reiterated his statement. Such a resolution, some of Mr. Hill's friends at the hotels sid was contrary to precedent the hotel said, was contrary to precedent and they recalled that Edward Murphy, Jr., James W. Hinkley, Elliot Danforth and Frank Campbell, as chairmen of the Democratic State committee for fifteen years past, had had the authority to name the avectiving committee and enjoyed also the executive committee and enjoyed also the discretion to select men for that com-the discretion to select men for that committee not members of the State committee. By the terms of the Burgard resolution Cord Meyer, who was elected on that day chairman of the State committee, is deprived of the authority and discretion which his four predecessors enjoyed.

Mr. Murphy, leader of Tammany, sent word to Albany on April 30 by Thomas F. Smith, secretary of Tammany, that he would not serve on an executive committee of which Mr. McCarren was to be chairman. Many have accepted it to be a settled conclusion that Mr. McCarren is already chairman of the executive committee because his name heads the list.

Influential Democrats say that before Mr. McCarren is the actual chairman the committee must meet and formally elect him.

Democrats at St. Louis interested in securing harmony between the New York factions suggested that the executive committee be enlarged by adding nine to the list elected at Albany under the Burgard resolution. Talk to the same effect was heard in high Democratic quarters yesterday, but Mr. Hill's friends at the Hoffman House brought out the fact that according to the action at Albany on April 30 the executive committee could not be enlarged except by a resolution adopted by the State committee, and Mr. Hill's friends contended that the controls the committee by a vote of 27 to 23. The idea of enlarging the executive committee springs from a desire to leaven the lump of seven with some Tammany

TRAILED BY BOY SLEUTH

Whose Mother's Jewelry Was Stolen and Who Thinks He's Found the Thief. Edward Asbury, a thirteen-year-old boy of 579 McDonough street, Brooklyn, was in the Tombs police court yesterday morning as complainant against a man who said that he was Louis Kaplan of 184 Hopkins street, Brooklyn. Kaplan was accused of stealing $200 worth of jewelry from the boy's mother, Mrs. H. F. Asbury.

The boy followed the man from Brooklyn in a trolley car and had him arrested at in a trolley car and had him arrested at the Manhattan end of the Bridge. He told Magistrate Breen that the prisoner came to his home two weeks ago and, pretending that he wanted to wait there for a physician, went into Mrs. Asbury's apartment and stole the jewelry.

Magistrate Breen remanded the prisoner to Brooklyn.

IT GETS WARM IN THE 19TH. Gilman Men Are Fighting Douglas and Mack

Men Are Fighting Quigg. The usual fight between the Republican factions of the Nineteenth Assembly district is on. By primary day, Aug. 30, the throttle will be thrown wide open, according to indications in the district yesterday. It is a fight for the leadership of the district between Theodore P. The contestants declare it to be really be leader.

The contestants declare it to be really a fight between ex-Representative Lemuel Ely Quigg and Representative William H. Douglas, Gilman being but another name for Quigg and Mack being but another name for Douglas.

The Douglasites say that they want Mack for leader because Gilman is only first lieutenant for Quigg, who, they charge, is the real master of the district. The Quiggites declare that Gilman is O. K. and that Mack is a mask for Douglas, who wants to be to Mack what the other side eay Quigg is to Gilman, his boss.

Representative Douglas has been beaten in all his previous primary fights, and the bets in the district vesterday were 6 to 2 that Douglas and Mack would be beaten on Aug. 30 by the Quigg and Gilman people by 3 to 1. Four years ago, it was declared, Mr. Douglas, desiring to become a candidate for Congress, organized what he called the Associated Republicans, and made then the same charge that he makes now, to wit: That the Quigg organization in the district was altogether too ironclad an institution.

Mr. Douglas demanded reform with a big tion in the district was altogether too iron-clad an institution.

Mr. Douglas demanded reform with a big R and a rousing exclamation point. When he was nominated for Congress the de-mand for reform with the big R and the stunning exclamation point vanished, and little or nothing has been heard since of the aforesaid associated Republicans. Now, according to those who say they have nothing in common with either faction but want to get out the Republican vote on election day, Nov. 8, Mr. Douglas, knowing that he cannot be renominated for Congress, desires to be leader of the district, and has put forward Mack to accomplish his dire purpose.

put forward Mack to accomplish his dire purpose.

There are thirty-one election districts in the Ninetsenth. One of the election district captains, Henry L. Burnier, has left Gilman for Mack. Mr. Burnier has just got a good job in the New York Custom House. The hearts of the other thirty election district captains, despite all blandishments, remain true to Poll, that is, to either Quigg or Gilman or Gilman or Quigg.

The Douglas-Mack crowd, though, insisted yesterday that they were rapidly organizing in all the election districts; that there was plenty of "stuff" on their side (whatever that may mean), and that on primary day they were to hire fifteen workers in every blessed one of those thirty-one election districts. Inasmuch as there is no basis for a compromise this year, Mr. Douglas being entirely out of it for another term in Congress, the fight, it was declared, will go on to the end, and the hair and the "stuff" will fly, and the band, impartially on primary night, will sing of the victory.

Governor-Chairman Odell, in addition to his work of the last ten days at the Fifth Avenue Hotel to ascertain if there is Roosevelt sentiment enough in the State to carry him through as a third term candidate for Governor, has directed a good deal of his attention to the selection of candidates for the Assembly and Senate this fall. If all else fails the Governor-Chairman hopes to control the Legislature which is to elect a United States Senator to succeed Mr. Depew. He started in with the four big lakes about Madison and ran down the navigable rivers leading from the different lakes, finally getting into the waters of the Wisconsin River. He ran up to Portage, all the time taking with him a comps of politicians, portaged into the Fox River and thus reached Green Lake. At times he would get together a party of doubtful supporters and give an impromptu excursion, with a few refresh-ments on the side. He promises to repeat the tour before Nov. 7.
